

TValue™ Engine

Software Development Kit (SDK)

EASILY INTEGRATE TVALUE CALCULATIONS INTO YOUR CLOUD OR WINDOWS DESKTOP APPLICATION

Wide Range of Target Environments

- Using a .NET or COM interface, the TValue Engine SDK can be used in virtually any Windows programming environment including Visual Basic, VB Script, C++, FoxPro, ASP, Powerbuilder, and more
- Incorporate time value of money calculations within Excel or Access
- As a SOAP hosted web service, the TValue Engine SDK is compatible with Linux, Java, and other programming environments - perfect for web, client/server, and desktop applications
- The TValue Engine SDK is written in ATL C++ for lightning fast code.

Faster Time to Market, Lower Development Costs, and the Most Accurate Calculations

- Easily integrate any time value of money calculation from the simple to the complex into your applications
- Perfect for Web, client/server, and desktop applications
- Faster time to market, lower development costs, and industry standard calculations
- Integrating the calculations from TValue software via the TValue Engine will make the process simple, saving you valuable development time and dollars by allowing you to focus on the specific business requirements of your project

- All the possible combinations of calculation methodologies, year lengths, odd days, and compounding periods are programmable into your application
- Without the TValue Engine, the complexity of calculations would require significant testing to verify the accuracy of any calculations
- Rely on the time tested, accurate calculations of TValue software

Complete Time Value Of Money Calculations Ready to Be Deployed in Your Application

- Any calculation that can be done with the TValue amortization software can be accomplished in your development project with the TValue Engine SDK
- Applications that incorporate the TValue Engine include Online Mortgage Loan Origination systems, Lease Pricing and Quotation programs, and Student Loan Servicing programs to name a few
